Sponsorship opportunities

This international symposium is the only major UK international meeting which combines a week-long meeting with a trade exhibition. It provides a rare opportunity for companies to associate themselves with such a prestigious meeting and to provide delegates with tangible items suitably branded so that their name continues to be visible long after the meeting has ended.

There are many ways to be a sponsor; some companies may wish to provide something substantial and useful which delegates will take away, for example:

- Conference bags
- Pens
- Pads of paper
- Other corporate items
- Gifts for the social delegates

Others may wish to support the event and to provide a measure of advertising by sponsoring for example:

- Symposium Dinner menus,
- Harpist during the Symposium Dinner,
- Treorchy Male Voice Choir after the Symposium Dinner,
- Musical Concert on the Tuesday Evening (still being arranged but almost certainly Cardiff Conservatoire musicians, possibly with Welsh National Opera singers),
- Social delegates get-together over coffee on the Monday morning.

A golf competition is being arranged for the Wednesday afternoon bringing an alternative sponsorship opportunity by way of prizes or balls or brollies or other golfing paraphernalia.

We anticipate that the number of scientific delegates will be ~200 – 230 and social delegates ~20 – 30; golfers may number ~30. All these numbers are, of course, speculative. What is not speculative is the number of papers accepted – well over one hundred – and the speed with which exhibition stands are being taken up.

For further information about sponsorship opportunities, please contact the Symposium Hon. Treasurer, Dr John Jackson on 01454 416421 or 2jj@btc37.fsnet.co.uk. You are advised to do this soon as one particular opportunity (pre-Symposium Dinner drinks) has already been snapped up.
